

ANN WEST
DEBUT SINGLE - MISSED IT AGAIN
RELEASED AUGUST 11, 2008

Catalogue Number: (digital) DBCHARM1 / (iTunes) DBCHARMIITE

Glasgow born singer / song writer Ann West has had an extraordinary journey that has taken her from Malibu to India, the San Juan Islands, Kauai, Ibiza and Glastonbury. A former model, she was living a cosmopolitan life in Los Angeles which felt empty to her and led her to become a doctor of metaphysics, teach meditation and yoga and write a book about her experiences.

As if that wasn't enough for anyone's CV, Ann has hosted her own successful TV show and talk radio shows in Hawaii, formed a non-profit organisation called The Universal Cetacean to help protect whales and dolphins and assisted in the U.S. navy complying to cancel environmental policies. Despite all her success she has always felt something was missing. That she was meant to sing.

Her debut album 'Confidante' (released September 29, 2008) has been a long time in the making. Think a contemporary Carly Simon with pop sensibilities, Celtic melodies and a hint of Nashville craftsmanship. The album was recorded in London and Hawaii with and overseen by producer David Tickle who has worked with Prince, Peter Gabriel, U2, Split Enz, George Michael, Jackson Browne and Blondie.

The first single 'Missed It Again' will be released digitally on August 11 through independent label Charmed Records. Ann co-wrote the track in Nashville with Richard Fammeree who has written for Toni Childs and Frank Myers who has had ten number one hits including one with Alabama.
